

GOD IS LOVE AND NOTHING ELSE. PRAISE THE LORD.

LETTER FROM GEORGE O. BARNES.

GLEN MARY, TENN., July 28, '88.

DEAR INTERIOR:—After a delightful fortnight at the Falls, we have our kind entertainers and their guests a reluctant adieu Thursday morning at 6:30 o'clock. The departure of 12 of us made quite a gap in the ranks. Five young gentlemen, from Lexington, took a sudden notion to leave for home by that morning's train, and perched on the luggage, when they found there were no seats in the hack. They, good-naturedly, walked a good part of the way, rather than overtask the mules—nice fellows of 16 to 18 years; as jolly a lot of youngsters as one would wish to see; nimble as squirrels and mischievous as monkeys. "The boys," as they were called at the Falls, keeping things lively, after the manner of young men of that exuberant age. We liked them ever so much.

Perhaps I ought, in justice, to say that our expenses during that happy fortnight were jointly borne by Soc Owens, Nath and John Woodcock, who kindly contributed, each, of the hotel bill, already fixed at a low rate by Soc's generosity. We take this opportunity to thank them one and all.

The river forked, and the waving handkerchiefs hidden from view by a plunge into the undergrowth across the stream; those who were able lightened the vehicle by taking Shanks' mare. It is a "brother," that long hill that puts us on the top of the Cumberland cliff. Just after a hearty breakfast, rather oppressive, but, in the interest of putting ourselves in the best of spirits, we set out on the safest trunk available, and the rest in the hack, away we go. The air is deliciously cool in the early morning; the road smooth and undisturbed; and our party full of good spirits, the 12 miles of mountain travel was but a "picnic" for us all. When we came to a bit of a hill off went the boys, our Will W. making the round dozen, those striking the ground first pelted the laggards with chips and clods till they too had quitted their perches. One youngster, who was rather slow to jump, was peppered nearly every time a hill had to be climbed; all taken good-naturedly.

"Jack" and "Grant" were our two hybrids. Both good and true, but "Jack" perfectly willing his distinguished companion should do most of the pulling; and watching with thoughtful, retrospective eye, through that crevice above his blinkers, which all mules find or make, the driver's whip; and promptly leveling his side of the double-tree the moment a demonstration was made to chastise him. This—going uphill. Descending—all we had to do was to sit fast and "let her go Gallagher," reaching the bottom in a rapid trot or a hand gallop. The road-sides were strewn with pretty wild flowers; and all the way the forest trees protected us from the sun's rays. To one in good health, and not disposed to fault-finding, that 12 miles of "bridge road" furnishes a pleasing variety after, and especially before, the railway ride.

But the last hill came and "the boys" made their last descent from their overloaded wagon; the tight little station hove in sight; and we prepared to say good-bye. "The Troupe" was to go south, 6 hours later; the other eight north, on the "up train," due soon after our arrival. Here it comes "with a shriek, a roar and a rattle," as "Doc" describes it, and our friends disappear, amid a waving of handkerchiefs, around the first curve.

We proceed to "make the best of it." Seeking a cool, shaded spot on the edge of the forest, we "camp out" in the hotel hack; disengage a Georgia watermelon that Miss Willie Tibbison left as a parting token of her thoughtful love; in due time lunch; and then—by request of a deputization—get out the little organ and have a service of song for the teamsters and workmen at the saw-mill and new depot, in course of construction. It is a good way of putting in the time and we are glad of the request, on every account. One man had heard us last summer at Somerset, and he had put it in the heads of others to ask the girls to sing. Who can tell what impressions were made on that knot of respectful listeners, as the children sang the "Sixty and Nine" and I told them of the lamb that went over Cumberland Falls?

By the way, the little waif is at the house of a kind-hearted man, who lives a mile this side of the Falls; and as we passed his house, Thursday morning, we "ha'd'd" in concert, to attract our pet's attention. It was 150 yards off the road to where Ballou's cabin stands, but our lamb recognized the familiar voices and responded with his treble to our bass, as far as we could hear it.

I thought at one time to send it to Pink Cottage and ask my old friend Jim Wray to raise this historical lambkin for the Troupe; but fearing it might prove a "white elephant," instead of a white sheep, in the end, gave it up. We left it in Whitley county with regret. If Jim reads this and would like to have it, I can get it yet. But I don't want him burdened with a, possibly, troublesome pet.

Four o'clock came at last, and our train with it. A picturesque ride, in the 48 miles between Cumberland Falls Station and Glen Mary. Especially fine is the approach and crossing at New River bridge, eight miles north of this; where a curve in the road shows the elegant structure and its deep ravine, with the deep-down river whaling at the bottom in a very charming way. It is a superb bit of scenery.

John was away at Chattanooga on his engrossing business, but John's good, sweet "better half" (John often tells me, "we both outmarried ourselves, George") was at the station with a welcome warm as her heart and his put together. Of course we were "at home" instantly. Nay! that even before we came. We never dreamed of anything else at John's house, since first we knew him 11 years ago at Albany, where we saw the Clarks and they loved our gospel and us for its sake. That is a love that holds, because it has a basis, broad and deep.

Glen Mary is 1,600 feet above sea level, on the great Cumberland Plateau, we hear so much about, for health and pure air and water. Our old friend of last summer, Rugby, is only 7 miles away. It is a real "eden" where we now are; as picturesque charming as its name is full of peace and rest, and gentle trustfulness. These all and always go with "Mary," for me, as for so many others. "Our Lady" has enshrined them evermore in her virgin heart of purity and sweet heavenly LOVE. I am no worshipper of the "Mother of our Lord!" It is, only, shall have what is only His due. But I would rather adore the "Queen of Heaven," ten thousand times, than believe that our God has foreordained, by unalterable decree, "for his own glory," millions of our race to an eternal hell; whom He has "passed by," leaving them to a hopeless future, utterly irrespective of foreseen good or evil works. Yet, unnumbered thousands who profess to believe this atrocious dogma, turn away with holy horror from the Roman Catholic who practices Mariolatry, as from one who thereby commits an almost unpardonable sin. I am sure it will go harder with the Calvinistic predestinarian—when the curtain lifts—than with the worshiper of Mary, as I am of my own existence; simply because to slander the character of God is a worse sin than to withhold a portion of what is His due. And yet we "Protestants" affect to pity the "blinded Romanists" in this! It is the old story of "notes and cents."

"Ah, would some grace the gifts give us, To see ourselves as others see us, It would free many a blunder tree us, And foolish notion!" But I am straying from Glen Mary. The sides of the steep hills on either side are densely wooded. Across the southern outlet stands a great mountain, seeming to bar egress, but the sinuous C. N. D. & T. P. goes screaming round its base, and squirms its way out to the regions beyond.

The Glen Mary Coal Mine lies one mile up the mountain with its 100 tenement houses, scattered at random, thro' the woods, surrounding the pit's mouth.

There, at a convenient point, where a pleasant shade of forest trees invites, our stand is erected. By an ingenious stretching of stout ropes from tree to tree a net work supports the boughs, green and umbrageous, that have been topped to furnish an extemporaneous roof for our congregation. Pine boards, tacked to parallel logs of suitable size, furnish rough, but not unattractive seats for our audiences. Yesterday evening it rained hard after dinner, but cleared an hour before service time. The ground was wet, the seats damp and the leaves overhead dripped oozily; but 80-odd people came to the first meeting. I didn't keep them long. Gave them a half hour's talk on a Personal Saviour—the narrow of offence and modern divinity. The children sang their sweetest and the little organ never gave out a more tender melody than it breathed into those primeval forests atop of Glen Mary. I think we will have a glorious meeting among the miners. I will tell you (D. V.) more about them when I see more of them. There are over 400 now at work and the country around is well settled up. We preach and sing at 5:30 p. m. as the most convenient hour for all.

John's pretty cottage is on the west side of the railroad, clinging to the steep hillside in a pretty grove of "butternut" (white walnut) trees. He left his muscular arm at Atlanta, fighting for the Union, but "the war is over" and this sturdy patriot does not refuse the grateful shadow of the once odious insignia of rebellion.

We are deliciously entertained. "In clover, knee-deep." Praise the LORD! Ever in Jesus, GEO. O. BARNES.

CRAB ORCHARD.

—Mrs. Kate Chadwick has been very sick.

—Dripping Springs are still gay and lively.

—C. O. S. is full of pretty visitors this summer. There are about 150 guests.

—Horseback riding is all the rage here now. Almost every evening a large party of ladies and gentlemen take long rides.

—Misses Mary and Lillie Thixton, who formerly taught school here, will assist in a concert to be given at the Crab Orchard Springs to-night, Wednesday, by Prof. A. Sartori, of Louisville.

—There was a good crowd at the picnic last Saturday, but a heavy cloud that came up soon after dinner caused them to start home rather early. There were plenty of provisions on the grounds and everybody got a good dinner.

—Miss Susie Lasley, of Stanford, was the guest of Miss Maggie Holmes, Miss Anna Spears, of Danville, is visiting Miss Katie James, Mrs. Brooks has been visiting relatives in Louisville. Mr. S. W. Cotton, of Middleburg, visited C. O., or rather one of its fair inhabitants again this week. Mr. L. Hutchings and wife, of Danville, were the guests of Mrs. J. H. Hutchings, Misses Alice, Mattie and Lizzie Beasley, of Stanford, and Bettie Lear, of Lancaster, have been visiting the Misses Stuart. Mr. Jones and wife, of Rising Sun, Ind., are the guests of their son, Mr. E. W. Jones. Mrs. Jack Gover and Miss Lomana Bilb, of Stanford, spent Sunday with Mrs. Curtis Gover. Mr. Joe Coffey and wife, of Danville, have been visiting Mrs. W. R. Billion, Mrs. Fannie Green and Miss Eva Bradley, of Stanford, were the guests of the Misses Harlin and Doores. Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Ewell, of Louisville, have been visiting Mrs. Laura Moore. Mr. B. R. Gentry was in town this week. C. O. must possess some great attraction for him, as his last visit occurred less than two weeks ago. Mrs. Mary Douglas, of Danville, and Mrs. Harrison Thurman, of Harrodsburg, paid C. O. a short visit this week.

Chap Excursion to the Seashore. The Chesapeake & Ohio Route (Newport News & Mississippi Valley Co.), announces a cheap special excursion to Old Point Comfort, to leave Lexington at 12 noon August 10th. The round-trip from Lexington to Old Point is only $12, which is remarkably cheap for the distance and great pleasure to be derived from the mountains and seashore. The train is to be strictly first-class, with sleeping cars, handsome coaches and an agent of the company to take good care of the passengers and point out the many interesting points of the trip. Stop-over privileges will be given on the return trip to enable passengers to visit White Sulphur Springs and other noted pleasure resorts of the mountains. It will be necessary in order to secure good sleeping car space, for all who desire berths to leave their names with G. W. Barney, Ticket Agent C. & O. Route, Lexington, Ky., at once.

There is a perpendicular ascent of the cliffs of High Bridge, which the devil could afford to have gilded, if that were necessary to make it attractive. Ladders stretch up the precipice almost vertically about 300 feet, and during camp-meeting a constant throng of young women and men are going up there—the young women in front and the young men paying ten cents a head for their privileges of prospective. Young girls who would not dream of climbing a ten-foot step-ladder with any man looking on, make visible angels of themselves on this Jacob's-ladder business, because it has somehow the flavor of piety about it. But if some staid nutrons, whom I see about here, could know what I have heard said about their anatomy when they were girls, their cheeks would tingle. —[Falcon, in Louisville Times.

"Ethel," asked a Stanford mother of her daughter, as the fair young girl sat down at a late breakfast in her morning gown, "did George leave any package for me last evening?" Ethel blushed and said flusteringly: "Why, no, mamma! What made you ask?" "Oh, nothing. I only heard him say at the door as he said good-bye, 'Now, here is one more for your mother,' and I didn't know but it was that pattern for lace lambrequins that his mother has promised me." Ethel said nothing.

HUSTONVILLE.

—The boys must "let up" on the charge that I ever, under any circumstances, by any amount of provocation, could have been induced to so far forget myself as to "discuss the tariff." I think the reporter was honestly mistaken. Probably not being familiar with the matters under consideration, he concluded (as most wise men do) that a discussion which was beyond his comprehension must relate to the tariff. I plead "not guilty."

—I am requested by the trustees of District No. 10 to give notice that the common school will open here on Monday, the 6th inst. It is desired that all who possibly can will be present at the opening. While on this topic I would state that the colored Teachers' Institute will be held at Stanford beginning Monday, Sept. 24, and continuing five days. The law requires all who hold certificates or who desire applying for such during the year to be present or give good reasons for absence. The penalty for failure is heavy. White teachers will hear in mind that their institute will begin Aug. 20, at Stanford.

—The honest phiz of Col. Janieson, of Lebanon, is beaming blandly on old friends and familiar scenery in and around Hustonville. Our old town cheered by the promise of abundant crops, or shamed by the enterprise of Powers, Green and Steele, is putting on holiday attire. The village is replete with linseed oil and glistening in the glory of fresh paint and tasty decoration. One case is considered mysterious. Our gay, young Dr. Price yesterday became the proprietor of a line set of furniture, consisting in part of bedstead and all necessary appliances, washstand and furniture, full length, magnifying and beautifying mirrors, the easy chair, a splendid rocker—I couldn't learn whether this was a chair or a cradle—and several other articles of use or ornament.

HUBBLE. —George P. Bright sold his saddle horse for $175.

—Colored folks had a nice game of base ball on Saturday which was enjoyed by all.

—J. C. Eubanks and S. Hubble are in the mounting looking after sheep, mules and hogs.

—People are sorry to hear of George D. Burdett's failure in business at Lancaster. Too much credit.

—People in this vicinity are all for Newland as he has made a good sheriff and is a gentleman to go along with it.

—People are not much inclined to mix prohibition with politics, as has been tried, but prefer it straight without much stirring.

—Quite a number of young ladies and gentlemen called at Col. Rice's a few nights ago and asked the colonel to be their captain in a coming hunting party. Mr. Rice accepted the position and the result was that 5 cents were put up one tree and three killed out of the five. The grow was made up of Misses Grimes, Gentry, Good, Keith and Messrs. Robinson, Swopes and Rice. It was not a good night to come hunt either.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Judge of the Court of Appeals,

JUDGE W. S. PRYOR,

For Sheriff of Lincoln County,

THOS. D. NEWLAND.

The better informed republicans are not confident of victory in the presidential contest, but they are hopeful of capturing the House of Representatives by a working majority. Two years ago, on account of splits and dissensions in our party, the republicans were enabled to carry the 3d, 9th and 11th districts, and emboldened by that they now boastfully claim that they will not only retain those, but add the 5th and 10th to them in November. But the democrats ran by a little exertion and some display of good sense show these boasters that they are reckoning without their host. If the party will unite on some good man in each district and then work untiringly for his election, Kentucky will again have a solid democratic representation in Congress as she should.

In order that our readers may fully post themselves on the great issue of this campaign—Tariff Reform, we send at considerable expense a supplement with this issue, the perusal of which we earnestly commend to every voter. It contains besides the extracts from the speeches of Mills, Scott, Carlisle, Cox, Breckinridge, McKenzie, Russell, Beck, Lamar, Beecher, McMillin, Clements, Wilson and others; valuable tables illustrating the operations of the tariff; the democratic platform; a full report of the condition of the Treasury; Foster's famous letter demanding contributions to the republican campaign fund from "Manufacturers making fortunes every year;" and much other valuable material for voters and speakers. Read and file away for future reference.

The Louisville Times has been judicially declared to have the largest circulation in Jefferson county and the proud youngster, not satisfied with the honor, boasts that it can establish its claim to the largest circulation in the State, the Courier-Journal not excepted. The young men who run the paper are known to be of the Washingtonian class, who cannot tell a lie, and what they say is so. They deserve all the good things they get, and here's hoping they may always get their deserts.

The report of the Commissioner of Labor shows that between July 1, 1881, and the same month 1887, there were 3,900 strikes, involving 1,225,000 laborers. Of these only 40 were successful, while the rest were failures more or less complete. It is estimated that by these strikes labor lost $60,000,000 and employers $34,000,000. These figures, which it is presumed are reliable, should teach a lesson of exhausting every honorable means before resorting to the desperate one of striking.

Those who have had dealings with Mr. H. Colbran, the very courteous general passenger agent of the Cincinnati Southern, will regret to learn that he will retire from the road August 11th, to take the position of traffic manager of the Colorado Midland. A sharp advance in salary is the only cause which induced the determination to resign. D. G. Edwards, a clever and capable gentleman, has been appointed to fill the vacancy, for the present, at least.

SENATOR BLACKBURN shocked the grave and reverend Senators this week by appearing in his seat with a comfortable yachting flannel shirt on. It was too great a strain on their dignity and the Kentuckian finally fell back and donned a dicker as stiff and as straight as regulation could demand.

EVEN the Cincinnati Enquirer has caught on to the tricks of the general, as evidenced by the following paragraph: "Would it not be a good thing for the democratic papers of Kentucky to let the Hon. Wm. O. Bradley alone? All that the silver-tongued orator desires is an advertisement."

THE Daily Owensboro Messenger has not been received at this office for ten days. What have we done, Bro. Woodson, to be thus punished? We are willing to do any reasonable penance to be reinstated on your mailing list, if for any cause the L. J. has been stricken therefrom.

COLLECTOR ROBINSON, of the 7th district, took in $273,458.48 during July, but he had to retain a republican named Blaine, and a relative of James G., to assist him. Can't we democrats run the offices ourselves, general? If not, let us turn them entirely over to the rascals.

THE Harrodsburg Democrat hears that Logan McKee will probably be the lamb selected for McCleary to slaughter. We hope not. McKee is too clever a fellow for the sacrifice. Let 'em put up some man it will be some fun to shoot at.

A big local option fight is on in Woodford and Mrs. Nield is usual in the thickest of the fray.

THE New York Sun says the proper way to prepare a water melon and make it a feast for the gods is to drill a hole in it, pour in all the whisky it will hold, plug up and place in ice till the liquor is thoroughly absorbed. This is a pretty good way no doubt, but we won't be able to try it in this prohibition county, unless somebody will kindly express us the whisky.

THE Republican State Central Committee met at Louisville this week and organized by choosing Gen. W. J. Landrum, Chairman, and W. E. Riley, Secretary. A general plan of canvass was mapped out, but it was not given to the public, the proceedings being held in closed doors.

THE democratic platform declares for cheaper clothing and cheaper necessities of life. The republicans would continue war prices for everything, only offering free whisky to the tax-ridden people. It will be an easy task for the undecided to choose between them.

THOMAS A. DAVIS has resumed control of the Maysville Republican and starts out with a determination to accept no patent medicine ads. We shall see how long he sticks to his resolve.

—In the 5th voting precinct of Boyle county, which includes Shelby and Junction Cities and some outside territory, an election is to be held on Monday to decide whether or not spirituous, vinous and malt liquors shall be sold therein at retail. The election is to be held under what is known as the local option law and every voter has a right to come to the polls and by his vote express his free and unfettered desire upon the proposition.

—Flies, at this season, when they assault everybody and bite them without just provocation and bite them with malice, preposse and forethought are not popular and when they get into trouble, meet with but little sympathy. This by way of exordium. To come to the point. A theoretical prohibitionist told your young man this morning that after pouring out a grown person's dose of 8-year-old, which he expected to swallow, to antidote the effects of a snake bite of long standing, an unsuspecting green fly, not knowing what he did, fell headlong into the ent-glass tumbler. The T. P. is a tender-hearted fellow and will go his length to rescue any living thing from trouble. For a moment he watched the fly wriggle in the whisky, then with a wooden toothpick he lifted it out. It the fly was lively while in the whisky and after it was taken from it. His rescuer, thinking to hasten its convalescence if not its recovery, poured a few drops of pure cistern water over him and immediately lifted him to a dry spot, where through a skylight the sun shone on him. As soon as the cold water touched the fly he died; while in the whisky he was lively enough. Will some temperance (?) person tell us the reason of this astonishing result?

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—The State Convention of the Christian Church is in session at Harrodsburg.

—See the competitive Beef Cattle Rings at the Mercer County Fair, Aug. 14th, four days. $100 to the best herd.

—Lehman & Co. shipped from Paris yesterday 517 head—25 car loads of cattle—bought in the vicinity at 5 to 5 1/2 cents.

—The celebrated trotting stallion, Bell Boy, was sold at auction at Lexington for $50,000, being bought by C. C. Seaman, San Diego, Cal.

—So far the L. & N. has landed 1,107 car-loads of water-melons out of Montgomery, Ala. The crop is larger than ever known before.

—Over 40,000 bushels of wheat have been sold or stored at Richmond within the last 20 days, and much of the crop is yet in the market. [Kentucky Register.]

—The Lexington Roller Mills have bought 250,000 bushels of wheat at 75 cents delivered. The Transcript says the wheat harvest of the present season is the finest seen in that part of the country in a long while.

—Mr. J. M. Roberts, of Brodhead, brought us in a curiosity yesterday. It is 27 ears of corn from one stalk, woven into one, yet each ear distinguishable. He says the corn in Rockcastle is true, but the average is not 27 ears to the stalk by a good deal.

—As executors of the estate of D. W. Tribble, of Madison, Messrs. A. Tribble, of Junction City, and Mr. A. O. Chevalier, of Richmond, sold to New York parties 265 head of extra New York cattle, averaging 1,700 pounds, at 6 cents, to be delivered between the 1st and the 20th of November.

—R. P. Seabee sold to R. B. Hitchcraft 4,500 bushels of blue-grass seed at 20 cents. Benick Bros., of Clintonville, sold their 200 acres of wheat at 72 cents per bushel, to R. B. Hitchcraft. Charles Sullivan sold Wednesday at Louisville, 8 hogheads of tobacco, leaf and lugs, at prices ranging from 16 1/2 to 21 cents, an average of about 19c per lb. [Winchester Democrat.]

—C. Alexander, cashier of the Northern Bank, sold to M. Kahn 550 head of cattle, which were raised on his 2,200-acre farm. The price paid was $55,000, or about 6 cents per pound. This is the biggest sale of feeding cattle ever made in the State by one man, and it will take 45 cars to ship the stock away. They go to London, England, for the fat cattle show in December. [Paris Kentuckian.]

Candidate for Sheriff.

To the Editor Interior Journal.

HUSTONVILLE, Aug. 1.—Please announce my name as a candidate for Sheriff of Lincoln county, in the next issue of your paper. GEO. W. RYAN.

CHANGED HIS MIND.

HUSTONVILLE, Aug. 2.—Please don't announce me as sheriff as I have declined to run. GEO. W. RYAN.

Card of Thanks.

I desire to extend to the kind people whom I have the pleasure to call my neighbors, the sincerest thanks of myself and wife for their attention shown me during my recent illness. The entire five weeks of my sickness they administered to me and my wants both day and night and to say that I feel thankful would be but a poor attempt to express my feelings. A man more blessed with friends who come in time of need than your humble servant does not exist and I feel now that it was good to be sick, that I was afforded more substantial proof of their sterling worth. CLIFTON FOWLER.

—James O. Harrison, one of the most prominent and excellent citizens of Lexington, died in that city Wednesday in the 84th year of his age.

—On the Cincinnati Southern road near Somerset, Tuesday night, Robert K. Thomas, of Virginia, was killed in a railroad wreck and two tramps mangled. Wednesday in a collision at Carey's Summit, on the C. & O. engineer C. H. Brouil and brakeman A. J. Hoyle, were killed and fireman Summerson had a leg broken.

Misses Lizzie and Nannie Dix and Florence Jenkins, of Bryansville, are visiting Mrs. M. S. Baughman.

Mrs. M. C. Saffley is in Knoxville bidding her relatives goodbye before leaving for Wyoming Territory.

Miss Annie Dix was called home by a dispatch Monday night, which said that her aunt, Mrs. Mary Logan, was not expected to live.

Misses Anna Hagan and May Turner, of Madison, came down to attend the hop last night and to visit Misses Mattie and Maggie Owsley.

Chas. Reynolds paid his subscription to this paper for the 17th consecutive year yesterday. He never fails as regularly as the time rolls round to come in with $4, the other $2 being for Mr. Thomas Reynolds, who has been a subscriber about as long.

LOCAL LORE.

Get a flannel shirt at D. Klass' and enjoy solid comfort.

Extra good dinners with a change for only 25 cents at Zimmer's.

Mr. Tol. Martin and Miss Jones eloped this week and were married.

We have just received a few silk hats. Please call and examine. Owsley & Craig.

Dan Miller is not a regular nominee, but he is a solid democrat and deserves the support of the party.

R. C. Warren will address the Democratic Club at McKinney at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. All are invited.

FOR RENT.—Two suites of rooms in the Farris & Ramsey building, opposite the Portman House for rent. Apply to W. F. Ramsey.

The operators of the coal mines at Pittsburgh have refused the miners' demand for 3 cents a bushel and the threatened strike is on.

Don't forget the Club meeting to-morrow night and come if you joined for business and not for fun. A full meeting is earnestly desired.

Persons having express packages for the B. & O. Express will please leave them at my office or hang on the pasteboard signs I have furnished them. A. T. Nunnally, Agent.

We are still wrestling with that horse-carriage, which grows worse daily, and we ask those of our dear friends who cannot pray for us to do the best they can "cussing" for us.

L. Gooden, P. M. at Gilberts Creek, writes that our last paper has not been received there "greatly to the disappointment of the people." The fault is not in our office and it hardly looks like mail should misbehave in five miles.

FRESH line of Candies at A. A. Warren's.

TUESDAY next is the first day of the Danville fair. Ladies admitted free.

BOARDERS WANTED.—A nice front room and good board will be furnished a small family. Mrs. Kate Duddenn.

DEMOCRATS and all others who wish to endorse the course of an excellent officer should turn out next Monday and give Tom Newland a rousing vote.

WEDNESDAY is "Louisville Day" at the Danville Fair; 2,000 persons from Louisville expected on that day. Fare from Louisville $1 for round trip.

Boys.—Benjamin Franklin Ront is rejoicing over the advent of his first born—a 134-pound boy. James Bibb is also the father of a male heir which arrived Tuesday. They will vote the democratic ticket in 1900.

AFTER 21 years of dodging William Woodruff, charged with the murder of Marion Williams in 1867, was arrested near Lebanon Tuesday and taken to Casey county, the scene of the killing.

DANIEL MILLER is a candidate for reelection as constable and asks the support of the voters of the district and especially the democrats, of which party he has always been a faithful member.

YESTERDAY and the day before were as hot as hades, the thermometer at noon yesterday standing very near 100°. About that time a thunder cloud, accompanied by rain, reduced the temperature to the great relief of sweltering humanity.

MR. JOHN B. DICKENSON left at our office a Peerless cabbage, over three feet in circumference and weighing 83 pounds. He says he got the seed from the reliable house of W. Allee Burpee & Co., Philadelphia and that they are extra early and thrifty.

THE Danville Fair should be attended by everybody in Lincoln county. The officers expect the largest attendance ever on the grounds. They have expended $10,000 in improvements; the entries made and promises of others insure an exhibition of stock unsurpassed.

A GOOD republican told us yesterday that he knew nothing of his party running a candidate for sheriff and that he had said all along that Mr. Newland was a good enough man for him and that he intended voting for him and will do so. A leading prohibitionist also said he and all his associates would do likewise.

THE man who travels on the freight and sells fruits, vegetables and ice, is having quite a harvest now, especially in the ice line. The supply here has given out and Tuesday in the short time the train stopped here, he sold over 5,000 pounds and left with many crying because they could not be waited on. Tuesday and Friday are the days he comes out of Louisville.

NONE of the parties in the case of Mrs. Lucinda Baer, for shooting at Culberty Nance, appeared Tuesday when the case was called and there will probably be no further proceedings in the matter. Mrs. Baer may not be entirely blameless, but it is discreditable for any man or set of men to treat her as she claims she has been on numerous occasions for the last year or two.

THERE would be no fear of the radical still-hunt, if every democrat would go to the polls. But the trouble is they say Newland has no opposition and will be elected anyway, and many will think it useless to vote. Don't be caught napping, dear friends. You will have failed to do your duty if you do not make it a point to vote for the democratic nominee and induce your neighbor to do likewise.

THE Colored Odd Fellows of Stanford Lodge No. 2,940, will celebrate their first anniversary with a procession and picnic Friday, 10th, and end up with a moonlight fete on the Court-House square and a melodrama at Walton's Opera House by the ladies of the House of Ruth. All the lodges in the vicinity are invited. The object of the entertainment is recreation and to raise funds to build a hall.

As will be seen in another column, Mr. G. W. Ryan has announced himself a candidate for Sheriff. He is a republican and a nice gentleman, and the fact that he has the manhood to make an open announcement, instead of beating around the bushes in the dark, shows that he is better than the party he trains with, whether he is endorsed by it or not. We hardly think though the people will care to displace so good a man and so excellent an officer as Mr. Newland has made. Faithful, conscientious, sober and a temperance man by profession and practice, we do not see that even our friends, the prohibitionists, can find objection to him, while the democrats, whose nominee he is, should and no doubt will rally as one man to his support. It is rare that we have a chance to endorse the course of so excellent an officer as Tom Newland has made. Let us therefore re-elect him by a 1,000 majority.

Just as we were going to press last night Mr. Ryan wrote us to withdraw his name for sheriff. This should not cause the democrats to think there will be no candidate, so go to the polls and be on the safe side.

DEATH.—Mrs. Susan Logan, a sister of John W. and Wm. Logan, died yesterday of cancer and dropsy, aged 51. We were unable to get further particulars.

It has been reported that A. G. Coffey would be the republican candidate for Sheriff, but there will hardly be two of them. No matter, though, Tom Newland can beat one or a dozen of them.

ALL old accounts not paid by August 1st will be placed in the hands of an officer for collection. Six months is as long as I can wait for my money and I am compelled to do this. A. T. Nunnally.

THE young people enjoyed a brilliant hop at Walton's Opera House last night. Morbach's orchestra of seven pieces, which is giving such satisfaction to the dancers at Crab Orchard this season, furnished the music.

A WELL-POSTED democrat said yesterday that there isn't a man in Lincoln county that could beat Tom Newland for Sheriff and that his majority would not fall short of 500 Monday. We believe that way ourselves and have never feared anything except that the democrats would think it useless to go to the polls. But we have told them of the importance and they will be on hand.

In order to give the true state of the affair, which has been greatly magnified here, we wrote to a friend at Lancaster, who kindly sent us the following in relation to the departure of George D. Burdett, a merchant of that place: "Burdett has gone, but I think it more of a freak than anything else and expect to see him back any day. There is no suspicion of dishonesty on his part, but it is thought and in fact known by those who were at all intimate with him, that a desire to be relieved of worrying business complications has prompted him to seek temporary relief by absenting himself from home."

Lincoln County Fair.

When the bell tapped for the opening of the Fair yesterday the heat and dust were almost unbearable. A sprinkler worked manfully to get away with the latter, but it was not until the rain at noon began to fall that much success was accomplished in that line. The crowd for an opening day was fair and the display of stock unusually large and fine. A survey of the grounds showed many improvements over last year and indicated that the president and directors had been skimming around pretty lively since it was decided to hold the Fair. Below will be found the amount of premiums, the number of entries and the names of the owners of the successful stock.

RINOLETS.

The Stanford band did the music in great style.

It was about 6 o'clock before the last exhibit closed.

The judges in the races were J. M. Meyer, A. E. Humbley and W. G. Welch.

Secretary McKinney put us under obligations for favors. He has been a fair secretary off and on for 50 years.

The position of the amphitheatre is so arranged that an occupant can see the races from his seat from start to finish.

Good dinners in great abundance were on the grounds and everybody received a most cordial invitation to partake of them.

The track was very heavy after the hard rain, and time consequently slow.

A. J. Coleman's horse was very much used up in the 3-minute race.

Mrs. J. R. Walker, Secretary of the Kirkville Fair, was taking in onrs yesterday. He tells us that his association cleared $500 at its last exhibition.

John Bright, Jr., was ring marshal. His timidity prevented him from yelling the winners of the premiums and certificates long enough for all, but otherwise he was No. 1.

Secretary J. M. Meyer, of the Danville Fair, Vice President H. H. Brinkley, of the Somerset Fair, and Director H. H. Bates, of the Richmond Fair, were all present and complimented the fine show of stock.

Two big trotting races occur this afternoon with premiums of $100 and $150, besides the show of fine horses, mares, mules, jacks and jennets promises to be fine. Everybody in this section ought to attend.

HEIRS WANTED.

Peyton Embray, a resident of Stanford, Ky., died on the 4th day of May, 1888, leaving considerable estate for distribution among his heirs. The decedent had three sisters, Elizabeth, Mary and Bully, who left this county about the year 1820. Elizabeth and Mary when last heard of were living in this State and in that portion known as "The Purchase." Bully when last heard of was a resident of Kansas. Any person having any information as to the present residence of the above named parties or their heirs, will please write to me at Stanford, Lincoln county, Ky.

JOHN M. BAIL, Executor.

ELECTION NOTICE.

The voters of the Turnersville, Walnut Flat, Highland and Waynesburg Magisterial Districts are hereby notified that by an order of the Lincoln County Court and writ of election issued by the clerk of said court in pursuance thereof, I will as sheriff of said county open a poll and hold an election at the various voting places in said districts on

MONDAY, AUG. 6, 1888,

For the purpose of electing a Justice of the Peace to each of said districts to fill vacancies caused by the failure of M. V. Owens in the Turnersville District to qualify, the removal of John A. Singleton, of the Walnut Flat District, from the county and the removal of E. C. Faulkner, of the Highland District and John Anderson, of the Walnut Flat District, from the State.

Given under my hand this 16th day of July, '88.

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL

Conundrums.

The boy or girl under 15 who will send us a correct answer to each of the conundrums below, by next Friday, shall have the INTERIOR JOURNAL six months free.

What word is it which by changing a single letter becomes its own opposite?

When a boy falls into the water what is the first thing he does?

What is that which is put on the table and cut, but never eaten?

At what time was Adam married?

What is the difference between twice 22 and twice two and 20?

A room with 8 corners had a cat in each corner, 7 cats before each cat and a cat on every cat's tail. What was the total number of cats?

What is that which the more you take from it the larger it grows?

There's a word composed of three letters alone which reads backwards and forwards the same, it expresses the sentiments warm from the heart, and to beauty lays principal claim! What is it?

Two lines containing a total of 16 words can be made from the following: Y y u r y u b i c u r y f o r m e.

These four letters represent a sentence of nine words. Tell what it is?

R. D.

An effort is being made to raise sufficient stock to establish a permanent Lincoln County Stock Fair Association and papers for subscriptions are being circulated by the originators of the scheme, Messrs. F. Reid, I. M. Bruce and S. M. Owens. Our public spirited citizens should take hold of the matter. This county is as well able to conduct a successful annual fair as the best of them. The purpose is to buy grounds and erect the necessary buildings at a suitable place near town and it is thought that not over $5,000 will be needed.

A new swindle is being worked on the guileless granger. He is induced to buy something or other on long time, his note being all the payment required. But he objects to giving his note and having it discounted for cash. "Oh, we'll keep the note," says the sharper; and thereupon writes across the face "Not transferable." It soon turns up again in the hands of another party who wants the farmer to pay. An "e" added to the "Not" makes it "Note transferable."

Clergymen should be brief and to the point. A Boston clergyman once had a broad hint to that effect. "We would like to have you short when you marry us," said a prospective bridegroom, "because we are going West." "How soon after the ceremony will you start?" asked the clergyman. "In about a week," was the reply. Then the minister realized he had a reputation as one possessing the gift of continuance.—[Harper's Magazine.]

JOCKEY WEIGHTS.—Weights carried by race horses are not additional to the weight of the jockey. The weight is fixed and the jockey is part of it. If he is within the weights, strips of lead are put into pockets in the saddle to bring the weight up. A jockey is allowed to be 5 pounds over weight, but no more. If he weighs more he cannot ride.

"The uselessness of the lightning rod," says The Electrical Review, "is becoming so generally understood that the agents find their vocation a trying one. Fewer and fewer rods are manufactured each year, and the day will come when a lightning rod on a house will be regarded in the same light as a horseshoe over a man's door."

An actor recently returned to the city on foot after an unsuccessful tour in Shakespearean characters. A friend accosted him and asked what luck he had had. "Luck," the actor replied, "why down there in Jayville, Jay county, I played to four kerosene lamps, and two of these went out after the first act."

Yield of the Banana Tree.

During the present season the banana has been both abundant and cheap. The amount and rapidity of product of this plant probably exceeds that of any other in the known world. In eight or nine months after the sucker has been planted, clusters of fruit are formed; and in about two months more they may be gathered. The stem is then cut down and a fresh plant about two-thirds of the height of the parent stem, succeeds, and bears fruit in about three months more. The only care necessary is to dig once or twice a year around the roots. On 1,356 square feet, from 30 to 40 banana trees may be planted in Mexico, which will yield in the space of the year, 4,414 pounds avoirdupois, of fruit; while the same space would yield only 33 pounds avoirdupois of wheat, and 99 of potatoes. The immediate effect of this facility of supplying the wants of nature is, that the man who can, by laboring two days in the week, maintain himself and family, will devote the remaining five to idleness and pleasure. The same regions that produce the banana, also produce the two species of manioc, the bitter and the sweet—both of which appear to have been cultivated before the conquest.

Gen. Joseph E. Johnson, in reply to the rabid press of the North that has been frothing at the mouth over his admission as a contributing member of the G. A. R., says: "There was no animosity between Northern and Southern soldiers during the war. I remember three or four times when, under flags of truce, the opposing ranks rushed together and broke into fraternal groups. I never met a veteran of Sherman's army without pleasure. The animosity against the South was fomented by politicians, not by veterans." The bloody shirt flappers will no doubt wince at this, as they always wince at a wholesome truth.—[Cleveland Plain Dealer.]

Sam Jones is hounding the sinners and saints who congregate at High Bridge camp meeting to hear him. He preaches every day this week and before and after on Sunday next. Up on the occasion of his other visit to High Bridge he said before leaving: "There are two places I never want to go—one of them I know from experience; the other I don't care to know. These are High Bridge and Hell." The almighty dollar has again drawn him to the one, and if the Rev. Sam don't pray more and talk less, he may yet go to the other.—[Borger Cor. Harrodsburg Democrat.]

The republican party, which now deliberately declares its willingness to make whisky free rather than lighten the burden laid upon necessities by a war tax, has assumed a new position which transforms it into a party of protection for the sake of protection. The demand for modification which produced the inadequate and unsatisfactory legislation of 1883 is stronger and more widespread than ever, and a revision and modification in the direction and manner indicated by the President will not be silenced by the cry of "free trade."—[Harper's Weekly.]

A small, sandy bearded man of marked Hebrew characteristics came into one of the railroad ticket offices on Union avenue. "Haf you a ticket to Springfield?" he asked. "I think so," responded the ticket broker. "Do you want one to Springfield, Mo., or Springfield, Ill?" "It makes no difference," was the reply. "Gif me the one vich is the sheapest." The astonished ticket vender sold him passage to the Missouri town.—[Kansas City Times.]

Its Delicacy of Flavor

A pleasant remedy for tender and tired feet, which cause so much suffering during the hot weather, is cold water, about two quarts, two tablespoonfuls of ammonia, one tablespoonful of bay rum. Sit with the feet immersed for ten minutes, gently throwing the water over the limbs upward to the knee. Then rub dry with a crash towel and all the tired feeling is gone.

Pretty Sunday-school teacher (at picnic)—"You don't seem to be having a very pleasant time, Mr. Sissy. You have sat here quite alone for a long time."

Mr. Sissy (in a low, guarded tone of voice)—"Yes, Miss Maude, and I shall have to remain here until all have departed. I accidentally sat down on a mustard pie."—[Texas Siftings.]

It is said that the excursion parties that visit Indianapolis to see Gen. Harrison are the result of the shrewd schemes of the industrious railroad passenger agents, who are making hay while the sun shines, without caring whether Harrison is elected or not.

Some one asks us when the next presidential election will occur. The law says it shall take place upon the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November; and the calendar says the 4th of November fills the requirements of the law.

Renews Her Youth.

Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson, Clay Co., Iowa tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: I am 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from pain and soreness and am able to do all my own housework. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth and removed completely all disease and pain. Worth Knowing.

Mr. W. H. Morgan, merchant, Lake City, Fla., was taken with a severe cold, attended with a distressing cough and running into Consumption in its first stages. He tried many so called popular cough remedies and steadily grew worse. Was reduced in flesh, had difficulty in breathing and was unable to sleep. Finally tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and found immediate relief, and after using about a half dozen bottles found himself well and has had no return of the disease. No other remedy can show so grand a record of cures as Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Guaranteed to do just what is claimed for it.—Trial bottle free at A. R. Penny's Drug Store.

The Favorite

Medicine for Throat and Lung Difficulties has long been, and still is, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It cures Croup, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, and Asthma; soothes irritation of the Larynx and Fauces; strengthens the Vocal Organs; allays soreness of the Lungs; prevents Consumption, and, even in advanced stages of that disease, relieves Coughing and induces Sleep. There is no other preparation for diseases of the throat and lungs to be compared with this remedy.

"My wife had a distressing cough, with pains in the side and breast. We tried various medicines, but none did her any good until I got a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which has cured her. A neighbor, Mrs. Glenn, had the measles, and the cough was relieved by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I have no hesitation in recommending this to every one afflicted."—Robert Horton, Foreman, Headlight, Morrilton, Ark. "I have been afflicted with asthma for forty years. Last spring I was taken with a violent cough, which threatened to terminate my days. Every one pronounced me in consumption. I determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Its effects were magical. I was immediately relieved and continued to improve until entirely recovered."—Joel Bullard, Guilford, Conn.

"Six months ago I had a severe hemorrhage of the lungs, brought on by an incessant cough which deprived me of sleep and rest. I tried various remedies, but obtained no relief until I began to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. A few bottles of this medicine cured me." Mrs. E. Coburn, 19 Second st., Lowell, Mass.

"For children afflicted with colds, coughs, sore throat, or croup, I do not know of any remedy which will give more speedy relief than Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I have found it, also, invaluable in cases of Whooping Cough."—Ann Lovejoy, 1237 Washington street, Boston, Mass.
